

Not Just for H-1Bs!

Receive $100 off of any 'new' type of expert opinion letter your office has not previously requested!*

Silvergate is proud to be your go-to service for all things H-1B, but are you aware of our many services supporting other types of petitions ?

Our National Interest Waiver (NIW) expert opinion letter offerings have recently been expanded. We retain a roster of experts in various fields of study to provide persuasive arguments proving that the individual's work will benefit the United States as a whole and that he/she is "well-positioned" to advance a specific field or endeavor.

Business Necessity letters are useful in responding to PERM Audits. These letters discuss the academic, training, and work experience required for the position and why these requirements are essential to perform the job in a reasonable manner.

Not Substantially Comparable letters also provide support for PERM positions. These letters entail a detailed comparison between two positions attesting that they are at least 50% different from one another.

Our Managerial/Executive Capacity letters tailored for L-1A/EB-1C visas establish how the foreign position, the U.S. position, or both positions qualify as Executive or Managerial.

Extraordinary Ability expert opinion letters provide an in-depth analysis of how a beneficiary satisfies the stringent criteria for O-1/EB-1A visas.

Specialized Knowledge letters for L-1B visas begin with a technical analysis of a company' s proprietary processed and then discuss the beneficiary' s highly specialized, intimate knowledge of the company' s tools, technologies, and processed gained during his/her work experience.

TN Visa letters establish that a position qualifies under the NAFTA agreement, now the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA). As needed, these letters may also address the beneficiary' s qualifications and suitability for the position.

Credential Evaluations from a trusted credential evaluation service are needed for I-140 and more recently for I-944 cases.

More than ever during these tumultuous times, Silvergate Evaluations strives to be there for you for all your immigration needs!
